

Brexit and Right to Work Checks: ARE YOU READY?

After 1 January 2021 you will need a licence to employ workers from the European Union.

Failure to complete proper right to work checks on your workforce could result in a loss of licence or worse still a penalty notice of up to £20,000 per worker for failure to follow the correct procedures.

Here at Fortinus Global Ltd, our team of experts are ready to help. We can provide a step by step guide to securing a licence, and ensuring you are compliant with current and emerging legislation on right to work checks. This includes a basic understanding of who is subject to immigration control; what documents must be checked and copied, and why; how government systems are developing to conduct electronic verifications in specific cases; and how technology might be used to minimise the likelihood of identity fraud.
